Coming Ratification of Debt Pact Will Restore Cordiality With Paris

OLD DISPUTE IS ENDED

International Agreement Must Be Met, Final Decision of Powers

BY DAVID LAWRENCE Copyright 1929 by Post Pub. Co.

Washington-The foreign relations of the United States, particularly as they concern Europe, are rapidly becoming clarified.

Acceptance by the French government of the latest note from the United States asking that the current payment on the Mellon-Berenger agreement be brought up to date, means the early ratification by both houses of congress of the debt agreement itself and the establishment once more of the most cordial relations between Paris and Washington. Simultaneously the American government has developed an entente with the new Labor government in London and the question of limitation of armaments is conceded to be on a better basis already than it was when the first treaty of limitations was made after the war.

Both France and Great Britain have had the benefit of President Hoover's personal influence in expediting consideration of the tangled SNOOK JURGE ILL Hoover's personal influence in expequestions. The French government was to have paid four hundred mil-lion dollars by Aug. 1 f. Tpost-war ranged by the executive department of the American government and was of course superceded by the terms of the Mellon-Berenger agreement which requires ratification by the American congress.

MELLON-BERENGER PACT This agreement, however, was ar-

Until the French parliament acted there was no necessity for consideration of the agreement by the American congress and had it failed in France, the four hundred million dollars would have come due.

Technically it is due this week because the American Congress has not yet ratified, but it is within the power of the executive branch of the American government by simple exchange of notes to postpone the pay-

Edison Will Not Retire, He Declares

'It's Too Unhealthy," Wiz-

West Orange, N. J. -(A)- Although he is chasing his unofficial "successor", Thomas A. Edison has no intention of retiring. In response to one of a series of questions submitted by newspapermen during a reception to the 49 youths who are to take the examination today for the Edison scholarship, the inventor said: "No, I'll never retire. It's unhealthy. The boys, one from each of the states and the District of Columbia, will compete for the Edison scholarship of a four year technical education and recognition as "the brightest boy in America."

They approached the examina tion after a reception by the electrical wizard and the committee of judges, composed of Henry Ford, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, George Eastman, President S. W. Stratton of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and Dr. Lewis Perry, headmaster of Phillips Exeter academy. Short addresses of welcome were made by Mr. Edison, Mr. Ford and Dr. Stratton, and Colonel Lindbergh bowed and grinned in answer to loud cheers from the boys.

"I congratulatee you young men for having been chosen in this nationwide contest," Mr. Edison said.

TWELVE MEN ARRESTED IN ALLEGED RING

Officials Believe Organization Has Operated in Various Cities

Chicago -(A)- A bombing syndi cate that had supplied and "pineapples" in Chicago and other cities for years was believed crushed today with 12 of the alleged ring leaders in jail and the arrest of others expected soon.

The arrests in a spectacular raid on the gang's headquarters last night constituted the first major attempt to stop one of the city's most notorious evidences of lawlessness, a long series of bombings which had increased until this year the average has been about three bombs a week.

The raid was so unexpected and so carefully prepared that none of the men arrested had time to put up any resistance It was executed through the efforts of an under-cover agent who had worked his way into the gang's confidence.

The agent, James Altmeier, had purchased one bomb from the syndicate some time before and for three months he had been accepted as a racketeer. Last night he arranged for the purchase of a larger ship- Products Cooperative local here Wed-

REPORT AMERICAN AND SON BEATEN IN CHINA

London -(A) - A dispatch to the London Daily Mail, from Changchun, Manchuria, said that an American boy, the son of Lieutenant Cryers, an official of the National City bank of New York, was struck by a Chinese policeman for playing in a street at Harbin Tuesday.

When the father protested he was brutally attacked by 15 policemen who beat him with rifle butts and bound him with ropes. They took him to the police station where he was assaulted again."

WAS STENOGRAPHER

New York-(A)- Officials of the National City bank here today said that a stenographer named Richard J. Cryer of New York, was in their employ at Changchun, Manchuria and evidently was the "Lieutenant Cryer" reported in news dispatches to have been attacked by Chinese police. No word of the incident has been received by them. Cryser has been in the Orient for several years.

TWO WOMEN FLIERS TO TRY FOR RECORD

Bobbie Trout and Louise McPhetridge Seek Jackson-0'Brine Laurels

Los Angeles—(P)—Announcement that two noted women aviators, Miss Bobbie Trout and Mrs. Louise Thaden McPhetridge will attempt to take the world's refueling endurance flight record away from its men holders, Dale "Red" Jackson and Forrest O'Brine, was made by the two women last night.

The start of the endurance flight from Los Angeles Metropolitan airport, will be between Sept. 10 and 20. The date, they explained, was being delayed by their forthcoming participation in the National Air derby for women, in which a score of feminine fliers are expected to start results of seining at various times of from Santa Monica, Calif on Aug. 18, for a race to Cleveland, Ohio. The two women stated that a biplane now is being prepared here for their attempt to break the record, which is 420 hours 21 1-2 minutes.

Miss Trout twice has set solo endurance marks for women, her latest, in February, having been of 17 17 hours 24 minutes. This was echpsed by Mrs. McPhetridge, who set a mark of 22 hours. The latter also established a women's altitude record, having soared to nearly 20,-000 feet, only to have it surpassed

TRIES TO DODGE GALE

Friedrichschafen, Germany-(A)-Racing to escape an oncoming storm, the Graf Zeppelin, German mistress of the air, cruised southwestward toward Gibraltar today before setting out across the Atlantic on its second voyage to Lakehurst, N. J. The dirigible left its hangar here at 3:25 a. m. and at 3.29 a. m. (10:29 p. m., Appleton time, Wednesday) was released by its ground crew into the cool starlit night. It circled the field once, appearing like a great silver cigar in the glare of the flood lights, and then disappeared in the west across Lake Constance.

The departure was made in the face of weather' reports which told of a low pressure area over Ireland moving in the direction of Friedrichshafen. By skillful maneuvering and forced rapid progress Dr. Hugo Eckener, skipper, hoped to outrun and evade the storms the low pressure area was expected to set in motion.

Aboard the Graf Zeppelin were 18 passengers, 7 of whom were Ameri cans and two of whom were women, and its crew, the usual complement of 41 officers and men, a total of 53

Ahead of the giant dirigible lay a trip of, probably, more than 4,000 miles, which at an average cruising speed of 70 miles per hour might be traversed in 60 hours. Dr. Eckener, prior to departure, however, calculated he would need between 80 and 85 hours to reach New York, which he planned to circle before berthing

Removal from the hangar, which began shortly after 3 o'clock, was accomplished without difficulty, the dirigible rising slowly and easily once the ground hands released it. Its new motors hummed perfectly.

Goodyear Pathfinders are built to meet the needs of millions of motorists - not to make a cut-price leader or bait.

Yet WHY SUCH LOW PRICES? Simply this - combined with Goodyear's manufacturing economies, Gibson's buy Pathfinders by the carload, getting the lowest quantity prices. Then, because Gibson's sell so many of them, the price to you is made several dollars lower than Pathfinders would sell for in ordinary tire shops. Furthermore, Gibson prices are

HOOVER'S ASSAILANTS

President Hoover's executive order suspending the building of the cruisers is being assailed from two sources. One is the big navy crowd who will never be satisfied with anything less than the full program congress provided for, regardless of disarmament agreements or anything else. They are not to be taken too seriously. The other source is the politician who says Mr. Hoover did not have the constitutional power to issue the order. Whether he did or did not is of small consequence at this time. That question can be determined later, and without prejudice to the nation's interests.

When President Jefferson negotiated the Louisiana purchase he was bitterly assailed for usurping the powers of congress, as well as for the wisdom of his act. He himself doubted the constitutionality of what he had done and recommended an amendment to the constitution which would retroactively confirm the purchase, but it was never adopted. The Louisiana purchase saved to the United States everything west of the Mississippi river, and made possible the creation of a great nation extending from coast to coast. Jefferson was more far-sighted than either congress or the people.

In this instance the president is more far-sighted and more wise than the big navy men and the politicians. He has done a great thing in informally agreeing with Ramsay MacDonald to reduce armaments and by meeting the British prime minister half way in a mutual suspension of further naval construction. His action has the overwhelming approval of the American people. There is not a particle of doubt about this. The politicians and the navy men who oppose him are wholly out of tune with American popular sentiment. The attempt to paint this sentiment as one of ignoble pacifism is merely a trick to commit the nation to an offensive, impossible and destructive policy. Congress undoubtedly will ratify what the president has done. It could not do otherwise in the face of public opinion. The president is on the threshold of making history and nothing is likely to stop him.

Still, the mighty ancients are being dragged forth to the light, and to a reawakened public interest. Musty, dusty archeologists are doing the dragging. In the process there are many curious incidents.

There is the mystery of the horses' heads, which centers around the Assyrian excavations of the University of Chicago. Last year, digging and prospecting along the Tigris river near ancient Nineveh, about 300 miles north of Bagdad, Prof. Chiera found the sculptured stone heads of two horses and a bearded Assyrian. He had no idea where the bodies were. They might have been destroyed or lost thousands of years ago. Returning home, he discovered in the university library old records of a party of French archeologists who had been over the same site about 80 years ago, and had made some notes and sketches. Studying them, he figured out just where the decapitated sculptures of the man and horses could be found. This summer he returned to Mesopotamia, and found them exactly where he expected and the heads and bodies will now be united for the gaze of curious Americans.

The diggers have also been turning up remarkable relics and facts regarding the two famous Assyrian kings, Sennacherib and Sargon II. A prize coming to Chicago is a great stone bull, measuring 17x18 feet and weighing 40 tons, which really ought to stand in the New York stock-exchange.

DEEP-ROOTED LAWLESSNESS

Possibly this spirit of lawlessness that we hear so much about is deeper rooted than most of us have thought. Prof. William C. Bagley of Columbia university tells students at Teachers college that there is a national tradition of lawlessness going back to revolutionary days, and breaking out in such manifestations as the Boston Tea party.

That particular party, he observes, was "defensible because of the justice of the cause." It was a violent protest against laws imposed on the colonies against their will, when they had no representation in the governing body. But "since that time we have gone on protesting against laws which we ourselves have made." There is a profound difference.

There is a school of political thought nowadays which seems to hold that minorities always have a right to rebel. If this were true, there could be no representative government. It would mean death of our political freedom, which is based on the principle of majority rule, with reasonable safeguards provided for the rights of minorities, but with the few prevented from hindering the will of the many.

There may be a "tyranny of majorities." But when majority rule is overthrown, it leads to worse tyranny. The rebel who merely "wants to do as he pleases" too often ends by wanting others to do as he pleases. In this republic we must have at least temporary acquiescence by minorities in the will of majorities. But we must also have full freedom for minorities to grow into majorities, if they can, by winning converts through peaceful persuasion. It is only when such peaceful efforts are refused, by denial of free speech, free assembly, free press and a fair ballot that the old American tradition of rebellion properly comes into play.

A MARVEL OF AVIATION

Paris has just held a four day celebration commemorating Bleriot's flight from Calais to Dover across the English channel twenty years ago. In this day of many trans-Atlantic hops and endurance flights and other commonplace wonders, it is easy to forget the importance of that 33-minute hop in 1909.

Bleriot took off in his monoplane at 4:35 a. m. and stayed at a height of 250 feet, not because he could not go higher but because that elevation was suitable for the landing he had chosen on Lacking such navigation instruments as present-day flyers use, he set his course by the French vessel Escopette which he passed a few miles out at sea. He was out of sight of land only ten minutes, but it was the most anxious part of the journey because he had no certainty that he was going in the right direction. But he found his destination and made his landing—making history at the same time.

Orville and Wilbur Wright called the successful flyer "one of the most daring aeronauts of the world." Aviation has come far in these 20 years. What about the future? Who can foretell all the marvels that will have been achieved by 1949?

PEACE PACT EFFECTIVE

The United States, Great Britain and France jump in to stop the threatened war between Russia and China, Japan takes a hand. There is activity in the League of Nations headquarters at Geneva. World opinion rises quickly to sympathy and applause. The Russian and Chinese governments, even though continuing some of their threatening gestures and preparations, speak humbly and "back down."

So there is vitality to the Briand-Kellogg peace pact, after all. Or to speak more accurately, there is vitality to the world opinion which the pact represented. It is more, apparently, than a pious New Year's resolution, to be forgotten in a month. The words serve as moral clubs with which to belabor the heads and consciences of quarrelsome governments. They help to bring people to their senses. They tend to make mass-morality almost as decent and sensible as personal morality. They bring passions to the test of common sense. That is, when backed by powerful governments directed by able and clear-headed men.

she was terrible in some of them.

Then came "Thunderbolt," and Josef von Sternberg. That picturesque director, marker of stars, a little medium-stout man who walks about the studio in slouchy garb, wearing a cap with a curly look straying beneath the visor, seems to have taken Fay Wray and made her an actress. lt was a new Fav Wray who blossomed (or wilted, according to the point of view,) in "Thunderbolt." ## CHARLOTTE CALM OVER TRIAL OF 16 TEXTILE WORKERS

Change of Venue Is Consid-Defense

BY L. M, PARTON

(Copyright, 1929, by Cons. Press) Charlotte, N. C .- The trial of the sixteen members of the National Textile Workes' union, removed to this city by order of the court in Gastonia Tuesday, will find less tension and excitement in public feeling. This county has a large agricultural population, and the events following the shooting of Chief of Police Aderholt of Gastonia, have been taken very calmly in this reion. Unquestionably, the change of venue was a decided victory for

While in routine procedure, the trial would appear on the calendar for August 26, it is believed that it will be set for a special session to open immediately after Labor Day. Judge Barnhill, a southern version of Calvin Coolidge, plus relaxation and humor, will her the case. Judge Parnhill is a farmer in rearing and ancestry and conducted the Gastonia sessions with ... cool detachment reassuring to both sides. With the desultory opening of the trial in Gastonia, there was surface calm. but an undercurrent of deeper feeling, held in leash.

During the last week, the state press has insistently demanded that the trial be cleared from the atmosphere of hostility with which the clash of organizers and mill owners has been overshadowed from the beginning, and that no charge of unfairness must lie against the state. The emphatic statement of Judge Barnhill to the grand jury, in which he strongly, repudiated hints that extraneous issues of religious and political beliefs would be introduced, did much to silence contending voices and North Carolina newspapers are commenting on the trial and its background of industrial strife with the utmost restraint.

WORKERS UNORGANIZED But the background remains. There are somewhere around 400,000 textile workers in the south, virtually all unorganized. While the left wing labor movement brought the opening engagement to a dramatic issue in Gastonia, they have waged a vigirous campaign through all the couthern states, and the mill owners have met them with an alert resistanc, which has drawn the battle lines over a wide front. In this transition period of southern industrialization, compassing for the most part the post war years, not only northern capital has drift south, but the old industrial conflicts of Lawrence, Passaic, and New Bedford.

About $10,000,000 or one sixth of the manufactured products of the United States, are now made in the Southern manufacturers are now almost equal to the total national output of twenty years ago. In 1919 cotton manufacturing capital in the south was $360,000,000. Last year it was $1.110,000.000. Increases in the number of southern workers in the last ten years have been as follows: South Carolina, 26 per cent North Carolina, 15.6 per cent; Georgia 14.4 per cent; Tennessee, 13.1 per cent. North Carolina now has 6,132.000 of the 18.303,000 cotton spindles in the south. In Gaston county there are 1.243,000 spindles or about one sixth of the North Carolina total.

There are virtually no foreign born workers in the southern textile industry and no negroes. The mill owners have rigidly followed a policy of not mixing the races. Labor is drawn from agricultural regions, from the "Hill Billies" and from the simple mountain folk whose forebears have never before caught pace with a machine. The impassioned appeal of extreme radicalism, the demand for economic equality of the races, the shibboleths of class solidarity have impigned on the deeply rooted epical alignments with a confusing and bewildering effect. It was to be noted in William Z. Foster's impassioned but academic address to the union delegates at

Bessemer City. DELEGATES PUZZLED

The denunciation of the machinations of the world capitalism in Russia and China, from which the lessons in class solidarity in Gastonia has derived, left the delegates puzzled and groping. The uncompromising and unadapted radicalism naturally had the effect of arousing most of the state to a blaze of anger, directed not only against the defendants, but against all the heresies which they are charge with having brought to the south. In fact, the south is now putting up a stiffer quarantine against communism than Florida has raised against the Mediterrnean fly.

Rarely, if ever, before have negroes and whites sat together in a court room balcony reserved for negroes. It happened in Gastonia the whites, however, being of the mill worker class, as was most of the audience of about 200 which daily nacked the small court room. They

"Horton's shooting the works, isn't he?" Colin crawled. "Want me to hold down the desk for you, Harry? No use both of us losing a night's sleep, and you've got big day before you tomorrow."

Harry Blaine slowly lowered his feet, then drew himself out of his "Thanks, Grant. chair wearily. Believe I will turn in. I'm shot. Call me at my joint if anything treaks. And Horton want to be called, too. His phone number's pasted on the wall here. Probably won't be anything before morning. All I hope is, if the kid's got to crash he does it our time.

"Better come along, too Crys," he added. "Your sitting up all night won't make Sandy any the safer, and you've got to work tomorrow." Then he shrugged with a she shook her head. "All right" But-don't forget what I told you," and he fl.cked a significant glance toward Colin Grant.

I'S TRUE! THIS GRANULATED HARD-WATER SOAP SAVES SCRUBBING AND BOILING HOW THAT MUST SAVE THE CLOTHEST I'LL TRY IT NEXT WASHDAY (Thousands write us letters like this)

"Wonderful for dishes too" Says Mrs. A. Zanzig 1109 N. State St.

"Washday is easy in our house since we started using Rinso. No matter how soiled the things may be, all they need is a little hand rubbing after you've soaked them in those rich, lasting Rinso suds. There's no boiling, either, the clothes always turn out so white.

Rinso saves the cost of a water softener, and a little Rinso does so much work, it's the best money-saving soap ever. It's wonderful for dishes, too." Mrs. A. ZANZIG, 1109 N. State St., Much easier on the clothes Appleton, Wis.

Rinso is recommended by the makers of 36 leading washers for safety and whiter clothes. It gives twice as much suds as lightweight, puffedup soaps, because Rinso is granulated, compact. Marvelous for tub washing, too. Soaks out dirt saves scrubbing. That saves clothes, hands too. Get the BIG household package. Constructed by the makers of LUX-Lever Brothers Co., Cambridge, Mass.

ELECTRIC POWER NOW IN SIGHT AT COAL MINE MOUTH

Philadelphia and for Utilities

BY J. C. ROYLE Copyright, 1929, by Cons. Press New York-Development of steam. generated electric power at or near the pit mouth, which has been a North Pole of fuel energy exploraits goal.

The state authorities of Pennsylvania today are considering the applications of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company for charters for 33 electric public willity companies in an equal numutility companies in an equal number of commities throughout a section of the state.

Even if the charters should not be granted, the development of electric power at the pit mouth by the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company would be carried out, for all the mines of the concern are to be electrified. The electrification of the Reading collieries and the rebuilding of 32 breakers in the anthracite field are now in progress under the supervision of Stone and Webster, engineers prominent for years in public utility fields. They will also have charge of construction for the 33 Reading public utility companies, as and if chartered. So far as construction is concerned. the two projects are entirely sep-

COMPANY REFINANCED Reading Coal and Iron was refinanced some months ago under the of Iowa. Mrs. Jackson is the daughauspices of Drexel and company, the Philadelphia branch of J. P. Morgan | former United States district cour and company. New capital to the extent of $30,800.000 we provide. It is this money which will be expended was the first real step, according to fuel engineers, taken in the rehabilitation of the anthracite industry which has languished for some years, in fact since the last strike. Many of the 90 breakers of the company were antiquated.

When the coal company was ordered segregated from the Reading he continued to support her for railroad by the courts, the former did not have funds with which to keep equipment up to the best level and costs cut profits to the bone. While the concern was in this condition, A. J. Maloney was brought to Pennsylvania from Chicago as president and started the campaign of rehabilitation which is now in full swing.

The electrification of the mines, it is claimed, will cheapen the production of coal. It will permit also the utilization of the law grades of coal which are not commercially marketable. The capacity of the generating plants will be huge and the 33 public utilities company can be supplied with current provided from what is now principally a waste product, thus adding matrially to the revenue of the coal company.

While the Reading company has been reticent as to its plans, pending action an applications for charters, it is known that the concern Philadelphia and nearby cities. These com munities are already well covered by the Philadelphia Electric company with its huge hydro electric power plant at Conowingo on the Susquehanna river.

Philadelphia Electric is controlled by the United Gas Improvement company which in turn is believed to be closely allied with the recently consolidated Niagara Hudson Power company, formed under the Morgan

It would be thoroughly practical, however, for the transmission lines of the Reading Coal and Iron to be hooked up with the hydro electric lines indicated in a big chain of super power which would cover no small portion of the industrial mid Atlantic territory. The Reading Coal power concerns are not expected to set up competition to the local companies already operating in the territory it has selected. It will endeavor instead to sell current wholesale to such companies. It expects to be able to sell current in large quantities lower than it costs the local companies to generate it. Reading Coal cannot, of course, put a power plant at every colliery. for it must choose sites where sufficient flow of water for condensation purposes is available. One such point will be Herndon, on the Susquehanna river.

AUDIENCE OF 1,200 WELL PLEASED WITH "SMILIN' THROUGH"

Play Is Presented With Finish and Skill Wednesday

Menasha -- "Smilin' Thorugh," a play in a prologue and three acts by Allan Langdon, presented by the Winnebago players Wednesday evening at Menasha park, was a finished and delightful production. The cast was made up of Menasha and Neenah people who assumed their respective roles in a professional manner. More than 1,200 witnessed the play.

The beautiful stage setting was a reproduction of that used by Miss Jane Cowl who starred for so long on the professional stage. The play was presented on an artificial island in Fox river opposite the new Memorial building. The garden scene was artistic and in keeping with the colored lighting effects thrown from were unusually bright and numerous and the air following one of the hottest days of the summer was cool and invigorating.

Prior to the opening of the performance William R. Kellett, production manager, introduced S. ## FARM BOARD STEERS CLEAR OF PROMOTERS

Wants No High Pressure Men or Professional Good Will Evangelists

Washington -(P)- The federal farm board has decided upon a determined stand against "professional promoters" who have been seeking to "organize" the farmers for benefits under the agricultural marketing act and believes it has forti fied itself so that it will not be misled by their representations.

Lilie on; important when it is first inaugurated, the farm board has been swamped with applications for jobs, but the most persistent of these have been individuals, some described as "well meaning evangelists" and others as "high pressure promoters," who behave they see opportunity for their talents in the newly enacted farm

To practically all of the cooperative organization promoters, the board "has shown the door" with the declaration that the policy of the commission is to build up existing cooperatives. Members of the board are convinced that, through education, close supervision and a friendly helping attitude, extant coeperatives will be able to demonstrate their value to the farmers and thus increase their membership. ALL WANT MONEY

The desire of professional promoters to "organize" farmers is held by the board to spring from the know ledge that a great deal of government money is available for loans to cooperatives. ## STOCK EXCHANGE, BOARD OF TRADE MAY AMALGAMATE

Action Would Give Mid-west Unrivaled Trading Exchange in Chicago

BY OWEN L. SCOTT Copyright, 1929, by Cons. Press

Chicago - Ways being laid to launch stock trading on the Chirago board of trade. Sept 16, without conflict with the Chicago stock exchange, may lead before long to a single giant, Mid-Western market.

Conferences now being undertaken to smooth away differences which may arise between the two Chicago institutions are considered not unlikely to strike upon the basis for a merger between the two. This possibility at the moment is thought to be remote, but it is in the minds of the local financial leaders.

Such an amalgamation would give the Mid-West an unrivaled trading exchange. As it is, the Board of Trade is the world's leading grain market, and is rapidly coming to the front as a cotton exchange. It is laying plans for stock trading on a board scale, expecting that its already extensive wire system will tap relatively unimportant, but what she was opened to traffic Wednesday new trading centers.

share days are just around the corner. Only today, the first call money change, opening the way to a midwestern money market. Officials of the stock exchange estimate that within the next six months $100,000. 000 in new money can be absorbed by the Chicago market.

MONEY IN EAST "Approximately $400,000,000 of Central States money now is in the east," they point out. "And for every $100,000,000 brought back, the than a billion dollars, while bank deposits increase about $60,000,000."

At present the Chicago stock exchange has a by-law which prohibits any member from belonging to an other exchange in Hlinois dealing in the same securities. The board of trade has authorized the listing of any stocks. As a consequence the ground-work for conflict has been laid as seventy-two members of the Board of Trade also are members of the stock exchange.

The immediate problem facing an mofficial committee of brokers, is to find some basis for removing the differences between the two instituions. Once this is found, the way nay be opened to merger discusions. In the past suggestions for an amalgamation has come from the Board of Trade, Seats on the grain exchange now are selling at record prices. The last sale was at $60,000. At the same time trade in grain is of second proportions and it is expected that July will have seen 2,300,000,000 bushels of grain futures traded in.

Seats of the Chicago stock exchange sell for around $70,000, Trade there likewise is of record breaking Consolidation of the two would give Thicago a market almost unityalled in trading possibilities.

MAIL PLANES DID . NOT MISS SINGLE DAY IN 2 MONTHS

For two menths, June and July, the Fox river valley air mail has operated on a 100 per cent basis, not missing a single day, according to W. H. Zuehlke, acting postmaster. This tops off a record started in May when the mail line had but a single miss due to inclement weather. With such excellent service Mr. Zuehlke said he expects a big increase in the amount of air mail dispatched from Appleton. On Thursday two new pilots, Melvin Fried and Robert O. Mensing of Oshkosh, took over their duties as pilots on the valley line. They were employed by the Northwest Airways. 21 Year Old Youth Masters Allis, 6 Up and Four to

BY STANLEY E, KALISH

Associated Press Sports Writer state amateur tournament has gone dicated before sharpshooting golfers, who are carving deep inches in the Badger hall of golfing fame.

Two rounds of championship play Wednesday saw the following deposed as rulers of Wisconsin's golf kingdom:

Ned Allis, Milwaukee Country club, defending his crown for the tenth time and 1929 medalist with a 70, one under par.

Richard P. Cavanaugh, Kenosha Country club, five times winner of the state's highest amateur golf

Herbert W. Gardener, Blue Mound Country club, Milwaukee, a former state champion. Buddy Russell, Milwaukee Country club, 1927 champion. The largest feat of the day was in the second round and it was done by a 21-year-old former caddy from Racine. He was Henry Kaiser, Meadowbrooks, who gave Ned Allis one of ship history. Kaiser, who three years ago got in the select circle and lost his first waukee, Milwaukee, mastered Allis

Allis, although he r linquished the title, carned himself a ce in the shelf of golfing sportsmen. In the morning, he came from behind to square his match with Moe Frost, Kenosha Country club, on the eighteenth green, and won on the twentieth, and in the afternoon found his iron mastery had lo. his magic.

Known as the greatest iro player clubs fail to be the open sesame to sportsmanship on the fatal thireran did not force the nerve-wracking putt on the youthful player. He conceded the hole and the match.

With Kaiser in his victory was "Pretzel," 12-year-old Praintl, caddy and adviser, who has ments in which he has played in the last two years. Kaiser seldom made a shot without consultin; the Chubby Pretzel, and probably had the correct club at hand before Kaiser

Sam Anderson, Kenosha Country club, who earned a place in the championship round in the play-off, showed surprising skill in winning two matches Wednesday to earn a place in Thursday's quarter-final play. He turned the table 1 and 1 on Eddie Lehman, Meadowbrook Racine, who last year won one up on the nineteenth hole. Anderson's brother, Jim, likewise

John Crewe, the Racine public links golfer, proved his qualifying round of 73 was no fash by winning two victories by large margins. In the morning, Crewe casily disposed of Dan Smiha, 6 and 5, and in the afternoon, eased through to a 5 and 3 victory over Dr. M. M. Sorenson, Kilbourn, Milwaukee.

Like Sam Anderso., Phil G. Sanborn, Maple Bluff, Madison, entered the championship flight by virtue of victory in the qualifications play-off. He proved his right in the bracket by winning two matches and earnin a place in the quarter-final against Crewe. Sanborn beat Tom McGurn, Westmoor, Waukesha, 2 up, and then went out to trim Ben Goss, Michiwaukee, who sprang a surprise earlier in defeating Morgan Man-

Two former caddies also earned places in the semi-finals. They were Reggie Scully, St. Johns, Delafield, and Eddie Kruz Kilhourn.

Two public links juniors, H. A Kimbel and Herb Johnson, both of Washington park, Racine, tied for medal honors in that class by stroking the course in 795 in the qualifying rounds Wednesday.

Atlanta - (A) - Representatives of three minor leagues held a lodge of sorrow here recently. They mourned that departed brother, John Q. Public, the man with the 75-cent piece.

Al Gardner, president of the Wichita Falls club, represented the Texas league. "Cap" William Neal of the Louisville club presented the sorrows of the American association and R. J. Spiller of Atlanta wept for the Southern association.

The mourners advanced a number of points. The important ones were: 1. Baseball salaries are too

2. The ball is too lively.

3. Baseball must do something to restore interest in the game. 4. Competition for recruits it getting harder and it now necessary for baseball clubs to develop their own material.

Anent salaries, Spiller told the "lodge" that a number of clubs are paying out in salaries every louie they take in at the gate. "Cap" Neal said conditions in the American association were cqually as bad.

Some class A clubs are paying men as high as $1,060 per month, they said, and agreed this was preposterous. There are numerous salaries of $750 and $890 per

It was the unanimous opinion that the winter meeting of the minor leagues will be almost as interesting as the next series between the Cincinnati Reds and the Chicago Cubs.

PLAN FLOWER SHOW IN KAUKAUNA ABOUT

Weather

Kaukauna-One cannot, in proper delicacy, brag about one's children or one's flowers; but one can display the latter at the fourth annual flower show in Fargo's furniture store about the middle of August. At that time, products of Kankanna's finest gardens will be shown in a health and beauty contest for honors and

No definite date can be set for the show as its promoters are dependent on the weather for the period when the flowers will be most abundant and beautiful. At present, they are ragged, and rather stunted because of lack of rain.

Two arboritae, or young potted evergreens, already have been donated by Antone DeWitt, Kimberly. They are valued at $5 each and will be awarded in some general competition, such as the pretiest old fashioned bouquet, for instance, in which many growers can compete. "Will you give me the letter, sir?"

"Be seated, ma'am and I'll read it to you. "I'll not hear it."

"Then cover your ears, ma'm." And holding the letter to the candle, he read aloud:

Dear Sir Richard, I will meet you tonight by the old Mill House, trusting to your honour to return my letters. But oh,

Richard, you have promised so often, pray God you will keep your word tonight and return the letters. Indeed, Richard, they was wrote to you before I knew what love was-but I do love at last with all my heart-I pray thee return these letters and I will rest your graceful, loving friend Saccharissa. ## PUBLIC UTILITIES ARE HIGH SPOTS IN MARKET LAST MONTH

These Issues Contribute More Than 75 Per Cent of Total Appreciation

BY CHARLES F. SPEARE Copyright, 1929 by Cons. Press New York-(Review and Outlook) The month of July has not duplicated in its appreciation in the market value of stocks the record of over $4,000,000,000 made in June. It has, however, added to the wealth of the 17,000,000 or more shareholders of American corporations by a substantial sum and during a period that normally is a dull one and in which financial history shows a large number of reactionary markets. The high spots in the stock market this month are found in the groups of public utilities, both on the New York stock exchange and in the New York curb market, in the rails and in the shares of the iron and steel companies. Together they have contributed more than 75 per cent of the entire appreciation recorded.

I contrast has been the sluggishness and rather unsatisfactory action to their owners of the securities of the motors, the coppers, and the oils. This second group has been influenced mainly by trade conditions and outlook rather than by current earnings. A certain degree of stale-RAILS DROP AGAIN

In the iron and steel group new high record prices have been established this month by Bethlehem steel, whose dividend has been increased, and by United States steel common.

The motors have been laggards with Chrysler, General Motors Hupp and Studebaker showing losses of from 2 to 7 points. The coppers have been affected by metal prices, by the over expansion in copper production and by the inability of the market to absorb the new stocks created by various splitups. Although the oils have had the handicap of an unsatisfactory trade situation their net losses in July have been small. Wall Street is inclined to believe that their position in the market will be reversed in the next month or two.

It is estimated that the apprecia tion in securities during the current bull market amounts to $50,000,000, 000. Against this the increase in the total of brokers' loans is held to be insignificant.

AVIATION TAKES UP CHALLENGE TO INCREASE SAFETY

Recent Records Testify to Success Now Being Achieved

EDITOR'S NOTE: Perhaps the greatest demand on aviation today is that of safety. One of the coveted rizes among pilots of the United States Navy is the "Herbert Schiff Trophy," which goes annually to the naval pilot who has flown most miles during the previous year without an accident. The present helder is Lieutenant Lomes E Dyer. holder is Lieutenant James E Dyer, U. S. N. who gives below his ver-sion of its meaning and importance

BI LIEUTENANT JAMES E. DYER, U. S. N. (Written Especially for NEA Service and Post-Crescent)

Safety, complete safety, is the challenge of the public which is ranily being accepted by those connected with the advancement of aviation. One has but too look at the statistics of air transportation and to observe instance, Lieutenant Reginald D. the increased aerial activity in every part of the country to be convinced that, without safety, no such progress could have been made.

The Navy, the Army and the Air Mail have paved the way of progress that now hold responsible positions up 839 hours and 40 minutes in and fostered safety by training pilots with commercial aircraft concerns Individually the safety effort extends toward safety comes in increased demand for the products of those The reward for all these efforts demand for the products of those firms that have proven them safe and reliable. To the airway operator has come increased confidence in his line and the assurance of increased transportation. To the pilot, however, comes only the self-satisfaction of having performed his duties well in keeping up a schedule and safeguarding the lives of his passengers in the face of his greatest enemy, the weather.

It is to the pilot, therefore, that the "Herbert Schiff Trophy" is dedicated, to acknnowledge his part in the progress and safety of aviation. This trophy differs from such trophies as the Pulitzer, the Schneider, the Mackay, the Davis and the Beaumont in that the award is not attempts at records, but upon yearare nd performance in line of duty.
